MISSIONARIES

Jonas King, born Hawley, Mass. July 29, 1792; prof. rel. March 13, 1808; grad. Williams Coll. 1816; Andover Sem. 1819; ord. Charleston, S. C. Dec. 17, 1819, with Alfred Wright, p. 330; missionary some months in S. C.; elected Professor of Oriental Languages in Amherst College 1821; went to Paris more fully to prepare for the duties of that office; after the death of Levi Parsons - at Alexandria Feb. 10, 1822 - offered his services to the A.B.C.F.M. as a missionary for three years, his support being engaged by S.V.S. Wilder and other friends in Europe, he waited not for an answer but to supply his place; set out from Paris Sept. 30, 1822 for Egypt by way of Malta, ar. Malta, Nov. 3; arr. Alexandria with Fisk and Wolff Jan. 10, 1823; crossed the Desert and arr. Jerusalem, April 25, 1823; left Beirut in Palestine, Sept. 26, 1825, proceeded by sea to Tarsus, and thence by land to Smyrna; remained there from Dec. 1825 to June 1826; arr. in U. S. Sept. 4, 1827; emb. New York May 26, 1828, with a cargo of provisions sent by American ladies for Greence; arr. Poros July 26, 1828; in connection with his wife, commenced a Female School on the island of Tenos, 1829; re-appointed Dec. 30, 1829; removed to Athens where he arr. April 19, 1831; violent opposition compelled him to retire to Switzerland in 1847; thence proceeded to Malta, Nov. 1, 1847; returned to Athens, June 20, 1848; sentenced by the Criminal Court of At hens to fifteen days imprisonment and banishment from Greece March 5, 1852, simply for preaching the gospel in his own house; he was imprisoned for a single day but the sentence of banishment was not executed; again prosecuted Feb. 1859 but with no serious result; left Athens July 1 and arr. in U. S. Aug. 10, 1864; returned to Athens sailing from N. York Sept. 7, 1867. He died at Athens at midnight May 22, 1869. (See obit. in Herald, vol. 65; pp. 254-256)

Mrs. King (Anna Aspasia Mengous) born of Greek parents, near Smyrna, Asia Minor, Jan. 8, 1809; mar. at Tenos July 22, 1829 by Dr. R. Anderson; visited U. S. without her husband, Oct. 25, 1854; emb. New York, July 14, 1855; vis. U. S. with her husband, Aug. 10, 1864; emb. N. York Sept. 7, 1867; arrived at Athens, Nov. 27, 1867.

EUROPEAN TURKEY MISSION

This mission was commenced on a distinct basis in 1871, and the circumstances connected with its establishment are thus stated in the Annual Report of the Board for that year:

"The little company of missionaries who have hitherto been laboring in the Bulgarian language as a part of the Western Turkey Mission have now been set off as a separate mission, to do the work of evangelization for European Turkey. The first annual meeting of the new mission began its sessions June 30, 1871, and was attended by the five members of the mission now on the ground, by Dr. E. E. Bliss, as delegate and by Dr. Clark, the Foreign Secretary of the Board. Dr. Riggs came up to this gathering bearing in his hand the first bound volume of the Holy Scriptures issued from the press in the Bulgarian language. Thus he brought to the fourth mission with which he has been connected the precious work of his last twelve years, finished and ready for use. It is the first instance in the history of this Board where a mission has begun its work with the word of God in a language the people could understand, and with fervent thanksgivings the volume was laid upon the table as the corner-stone of the new mission."

The population of European Turkey is not far from 12,000,000. Nearly one half of these are Bulgarians. Missionary Herald, for Dec. 1870 has an article on work in Bulgaria, as carried on there by the Board since 1858.

Mission Trans. Pres. Bd., 1871.
1888 Oroomiah, Persia

MISSION TO THE MOHAMMEDANS OF PERSIA

This mission was attempted as an experiment, in the year 1834, and in the person of a single unmarried missionary confined in its history to the years between 1834 and 1842. As may be seen by the instructions to Mr. Merrick, delivered in the chapel of Amherst College, Aug. 10, 1834 (See Herald vol. 30, pp. 402-405) the specific object of the mission was one of inquiry, and the collection of facts bearing on the question. The field of operation being found unpromising, while other fields were inviting, the mission was abandoned in 1841.

MISSIONARY

James Lyman Merrick, born Monson, Mass. Dec. 11, 1803; prof. rel. there Oct. 1825; grad. Amherst Coll. 1830; Columbia, S.C. Sem. 1833; ord. Charleston, S.C. April 15, 1834; emb. Boston Aug. 20, 1834; ar. Smyrna Oct. 25, 1834; at Constantinople Nov. 10, 1834; spent nine months there in the study of Turkish, the language of all northern Persia; left Constantinople Aug. 19, 1835, in company with Dr. and Mrs. Grant, and with them travelled to Tabreez, where they arrived Oct. 15. Mr. Merrick remained there till June 6, 1836; then left, and reached Teheran June 24; ar. Isfahan July 16; he and two German missionaries in company with him were exposed here to great danger from the fanaticism of the population. He proceeded to Shiran in Sept. 1836; spent seven months there; vis. Isfahan April 11, 1837; ar. Tabreez May 23, 1837; continued in Tabreez till Dec. 1841, when he removed to Oroomiah; from this date till 1845, was a member of the Nestorian mission; returned to U.S. Sept. 1845; released Aug. 7, 1846; 1849-1864 pastor at S. Amherst, Mass. Died June 18, 1866, S. Amherst, Mass.

Mrs. Merrick (Emma Taylor) born in Portsmouth, England; mar. at Tabreez March 11, 1839. Died.
